Seek relief for Gulfview

The mushrooming enrollment at Gulfview Elementary School at Lakeshore may require reopening the old Claromont Harbor School next January for the primary grades as well as providing additional teachers, the county board of education was told at its meeting Saturday.

Beat 5 Trustee E. P. Orze said he believed Gulfview Principal Oren Seal could handle the booming enrollment this fall by holding classes in the gymnasium but use of the Claromont school, now used as the Claromont-Lakeshore Youth Center, seemed imminent after the first of the year. He urged the board to think in terms of a larger elementary school there and eventually a high school.

Seal reported that 194 pupils had enrolled as of last Friday compared with 175 on the opening day of the 1962-63 session. He estimated the number would top 200 by next month, including the principal the faculty there to six and Orze said under the circumstances more will be needed and since these must be paid this year from district funds the board of supervisors must be prevailed upon to provide at least two more miles of the county levy for schools.

The trustees expressed the belief more money could be earmarked for schools without raising taxes. He observed the advertising fund had little drain and that might be one source. S. P. Powell of Beat 4 and Lugis Necaise of Beat 3 said the supervisors from their beats had assured them last year they would go along with raising the millage for schools and Lamar Lee of 2 said he was confident his supervisor would go along with the need.

The county now levies 21 mills for schools against a maximum of 25 provided by state law. While tax levying bodies are required to impose millage sufficient to meet the budgets of separate municipal school districts this law does not apply to county school systems.

Right now Gulfview is the only school in the county system with serious growing pains. Logtown

Phone firm starts big expansion

Early next year present telephone expansion plans for the Bay-Waveland area should be completed, according to J. C. Dabney, group manager for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Already under construction at an estimated cost of $233,000 is an addition to the present exchange on St. Francis Street which will approximately double its size.

Next step in the program to provide for new applicants for telephone service and improve existing service will be the laying of two 900-pair basic feed cables at an estimated cost of $196,000.

One of the feed cables will go down Old Spanish Trail and then along St. Joseph Street into Waveland. The other will be laid alongside U. S. 90 going west.

On completion of this, expected to be during the first quarter of 1964, the utility will have provided for the anticipated population jump in the county insofar as the southeast portion of the county is concerned, Dabney hopes.

Hear Pearlington case, let road job

The board of supervisors on a 3-1 vote Monday voted to accept the $165,694 bid of Necaise and Penton, Gulfport road builders, for construction of the federal-state aid road project in Beat 3 after considerable discussion over the price which ran almost 30 per cent above state estimates.

But the fireworks of the session were provided during the hearing on a petition to open a road in the so-called Upper Pearlington way.

Mrs. W. A. Waters of Metairie, who said her great-grandparents had owned the property for the last 132 years, contended the tract never had been a public way and the road was simply a path. She argued there had never been any interest in the property until H. C. Dean took office as Beat 1 supervisor and opened a beach on one side of the property and a boat launching area on the other.

Dean said if she could show deeds to prove ownership of the property he would move to dismiss the petition but, lacking that, he moved that the road be opened on the grounds it has been maintained by the county over a period of years. This carried unanimously.

Mrs. Waters promptly indicated she would either appeal the action or file an injunction to prevent having to take her fences down. She had produced correspondence from the late

Child hit, man nearly drowns in Waveland

Two near-fatal accidents on the street in front of her house in Waveland's summer accident record last weekend.

Michel Rose, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fran Rose, 229 Beach Blvd., who had moved here last week from Florida, suffered two broken legs and cuts about the face and body when she was struck by a station wagon driven by C. J. Piazza of Main Street, Bay St. Louis, about 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Deputy Town Marshal Norvin Penrose, who investigated, said the child apparently ran into the street in front of her house as Piazza was driving by. She was given emergency treatment at Hancock General Hospital and rushed to Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans. No charges have been filed in connection with the accident, Penrose said.

About an hour later Jimmy Schwall, about 46, of Old Spanish Trail, was dragged from the Mississippi Sound near St. Clare's Catholic Church after apparently

NO SKEETERS AT MTO

Latest invasion of mosquitoes in not enough to bother activities at Mississippi Test Operations, according to B. U. Jones, community relations chief, who said Wednesday the scarcity of bugs there should prove the need for an area-wide control program. Massive spraying by Air Force planes was undertaken earlier this summer.

Rebulation of all votes in the second Democratic primary for the superintendent of education's post was completed Tuesday afternoon and K. G. McCarty, incumbent who apparently was beaten by four votes, said it would be a day or so before his attorney determined whether to contest the results.

Grand jury closeted yet, may report today

The September grand jury, empaneled Monday morning by Circuit Judge Leslie B. Grant, is expected to complete its deliberations some time today after recessing about 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Sheriff Gerald V. Price said he had about two dozen cases handled through his office in what shaped up to be the heaviest criminal docket in some time. The grand jury started its inspection of county property Tuesday afternoon, usually an indication presentments have been completed, but it went back into session about mid-morning Wednesday and there were reports another case would go before it today.

Pat Koenen of Kln is serving as foreman. Other jurors are George W. Smith, Forrest Wheat, Elvis Lader, George T. Goff, Lucien E. Favre, Manuel Pullman, William Carbone, Eastern Cuevas, Grady W. Lee, Albert Joseph Pilet, A. D. (Edward) Lader, Sam L. Dill, Clifton C. Shiyon, Norman Compton, Joseph C. Richardson and Leonard Lader.

Judge Grant recessed court until the grand jury reports after entering orders on several civil cases Monday. Orders were as follows:

Friendly Appliance, Inc., vs. Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Caspolich, reinstated and set for second Wednesday; Universal CIT Credit Corp. vs. Alex T. Caspolich, passed to files; Industrial Outdoor Display vs. Gulf Chevrolet, Inc., vs. William E. Burke, passed to files; Roger A. Heitzman vs. F. E. Lassabe, settled and dismissed; W. F. Holder, dba Commercial Finance vs. Leon E. Harville, non suit; Mrs. Jeanette Lind vs. Donald Koenen, plaintiff motion to strike counsel claim sustained; Bruce Cornell, trustee, vs. Herman Bounds, non suit; Quick and Grice, Inc., vs. Mrs. Herbert Craft, settled and dismissed; Busch Jewelry Co., vs. Nick Saender, non suit; Frank P. Corso, Inc., vs. Joe Colson, dba Colson Seafood, settled and dismissed; Des Adjustment Service, Inc., vs. Harold Lee, dismissed at cost of plaintiff; vs. Sabrina B. Mitchell, plea of acquittal of limitations sustained and dismissed at plaintiff's cost; vs. Dave Davis and wife, dismissed at plaintiff's cost; vs. Mrs. Clark Lee and Henry Clark Lee, dismissed at plaintiff's cost; C. J. Tessier vs. Robert Schivke, defense motion for 60 days to answer sustained; W. Luther Blackledge dba West Creek Lumber Co., vs. W. P. Bostovich and son, defense motion for 60 days to answer sustained.

Attorney Peter E. Duffy said he expected the hearing would be set within the next three weeks. Edwain Adam of Gulfport, attorney for William Bennett and Russell Dawsey, informed the court he already had a case set for that date when notified of plans for the arrangement. Other defendant is Harlan C. Dean.

Test site is closed to hunting

Increased construction has prompted the NASA Mississippi Test Operations to close its 11,500 acre test area to hunters this season, William C. Fortune, manager, announced Wednesday.

Fortune pointed out that over 500 persons are now working on the site. "We regret to have to close the reservation to hunters this year," he said, "but we have been advised by officials of the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission that it would be extremely dangerous to allow any hunting in the test area."

Fortune said workers are spread out all over the site engaged in all kinds of work. "We hope that our neighbors in the MTO are well understood why we are having to do this and will cooperate with us on the matter," he said.

The test area's northern boundary line begins just below Santa Rosa on Rt. 43. It runs south down the highway below the old Galesville turnoff and extends about three miles east and west of the highway. The land is now being posted.

Pearlington trio's hearing postponed

Arrangement in New Orleans before U. S. District Judge Frank Ellis scheduled for Wednesday of three Pearlington men indicted by a federal grand jury in June on bootlegging charges was postponed because the attorney for two of them had a prior commitment.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Sam L. Favre, Jr., were meantime to consult with city officials in an effort to find a solution.

Prior to the recess Superintendent Joe D. McCulloch told the board that "every classroom we have is full. Everyday more students are coming in—two to three a day". He said he had gone to Jackson and talked to T. A. Naylor, executive secretary to the Educational Finance Commission, and that Naylor had suggested the immediate addition of four to six classrooms to North Bay Elementary School.

The superintendent said that in his opinion the present lunchroom facilities and possibly the toilet facilities would be adequate to handle an additional four classrooms.

He also reported that something over $70,000 in state aid is available to the Bay system for this purpose, but that the maximum the state would allow was $8.25 per square foot and it might only allow $7.50 per square foot. The balance of the cost, estimated at about $8,000 including the covered walkways, would have to be financed through short term notes, which is the same source the limit of which is currently $9,000 short of enough to permit purchase of the Blue Meadow Road property.

Earl L. Lizana, local distributor for Borden's milk products, appeared before the board and said he had understood in 1960 that the distribution of milk to the various lunchrooms would be retained between the three milk companies in a way that would capitalize the amount of business each received from the school system. However, he said, in 1960 and 1961 he delivered to Volcan Co. Jackson, in 1962 to Waveland School and this year he was again delivering to Waveland. This he said amounted to only 7 or 8 per cent of the business. Hamilton said he would look into the matter and let Lizana know the result later this week.

Tigers upset Stone

Considered by some as a three touchdown underdog, the Bay High Tigers upset the Stone Tomcats 7-0 at the new Tiger Stadium Friday night. Stanley Burch went in for the TD with only 19 seconds left to play in the ball game.

Both teams threatened in the first quarter. A Johnny Penta pass was picked off by Charles Kennedy on the 20 yard line, but a 15 yard penalty ended the threat. Bay High couldn't move the ball so they punted to Stone.

After one play David Cobb fumbled the ball and it was recovered by Leroy Luke on the 37 yard line. On the first play

Penta rounded his left end and scampered 50 yards to the Stone 5 yard line, but a holding penalty ended that threat.

In the final quarter Stone mustered another drive, getting the ball to the 13 before the drive was halted.

Bay High took over and moved for a first down but on the second series of downs couldn't move and with fourth and ten Leroy Luke punted to the Tomcat 20 where the ball was fumbled by Cobb and recovered by Billy Thomas on the 10. Penta went for three yards over his own left tackle. Dick Wams added three more up the middle with Stanley Burch going the last four yards for the touchdown. Wams added the extra point with a and run.

Bay High travels to Pass Christian Friday to play the Pirates in a Gulf Coast Conference game.

Hospital board approves budget

Treasury of Hancock General Hospital Tuesday night approved a $344,975 budget for fiscal 1963-64 for submission tomorrow to the county board of supervisors.

If approved by the supervisors the three mill tax support the hospital has received in the past will need to be continued.

Last year's budget was for $236,250 but actual receipts and expenses for 11 months projected to include this month indicate cash receipts for the year of $306,000, including the county three mill levy, and actual expenses of $300,644.50.

The proposed budget anticipates $320,800 revenues from inpatient services, $28,115 from out-patient services and $3,260 from miscellaneous sources and $42,200 from the county making a total of $394,375. From this estimated deduction of $51,400, state aid, $5,250, welfare, and $32,150 in uncollectible accounts for a total of $51,400.

The $344,975 in anticipated expenses, of which $206,650 are for salaries and fees, are broken down in the budget as follows: administrative, $56,400; dietary, $42,350; housekeeping, $39,850; automotive, $2,775; building and maintenance, $8,750; nursing, $77,400; medical and surgical supplies, $18,300; pharmacy, $25,200; medical records, $6,200; anesthesiology, $8,800; radiology, $30,850; laboratory, $24,000; and electrocardiology, $4,600.

Administrator Thomas O. Logue told the board that the hospital is handicapped in handling the Blue Cross hospital insurance for those patients whose insurance contract is with a Blue Cross association other than the Mississippi one. He explained that rules of the Mississippi group require that the local hospital bill through it and that where the insurance contract is with some other Blue Cross affiliate the Mississippi unit only pays its minimum contract amount and the patient must then get the balance of the insurance due him directly from the Blue Cross organization issuing his contract.

The administrator said he will soon meet with state Blue Cross officials and hopes to arrange it so that Hancock General can bill directly, rather than through the state organization, at least for those patients covered by Blue Cross group insurance contracts with Boeing Aircraft and Chrysler Corporations and possibly any patient who is covered by Louisiana Blue Cross.

Logue also reported that clearing the approach for the hospital being constructed at the site was almost complete. This work has been done primarily by prisoners but Coast Electric Power Assn. has donated man and equipment needed to clear some of the trees. The city is expected to start making the needed fill sometime next week and Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard has agreed to block-top a 100 feet by 100 feet area for the building site itself, according to the administrator.

Present at the meeting were Board President T. T. Rehnold, Jr., Treasurer Hubert Thigpen, Clifford Smother, Caroline J. Lecher and Mrs. T. P. Ward, Attorney Sam L. Fowles, Jr., and Logue. Also present was Joseph K. Decker who will succeed Mrs. Ward on the board next month.

Supervisors...

R. S. Drake, carpenter, testified his boundaries and a report on a conference with Attorney Lecher M. Cox in 1957 the had advised funding in the tract to force a court decision in event of efforts toward adverse possession. Cox, now attorney for the supervisors, said he could not handle her case.

Eighty-two-year-old Kimball Russ, testifying in Mrs. Waters' behalf, recalled the tract was known as the Gutierrez green in his youth and said he knew of no conveyance of a road across it, adding "and I'm not trying to take any money from anybody to say so."

Lacie M. Raymond, Jr., testified as to the field survey he did at Drake's directions and the difference he found in the old map on Peartington and use of the property.

Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard, Jr., cast the lone dissenting vote on awarding a contract for the federal and state railroad project of Beat 5 Supervisor Charles J. Lavinghouse. Hubbard noted that when the first set of bids on the job were opened the low figure was $158,000 from a local firm (B. D. Johnson who was one of his opponents in the first primary) and he had voted against that as too high to be could not conscientiously go with

Eaton named GE manager at Gainesville

William R. Eaton has been appointed general manager of General Electric Co.'s Mississippi Test Support Operation at Gainesville, GE general manager Richard L. Shetter announced last week.

The office was organized to service a contract from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to support MTO in planning and activation of MTO. Eaton, as general manager for GE here will be responsible for providing a wide variety of services at the NASA facility... services which call for the maintenance of all services called for in the operation of a remote test facility. In addition, support will be furnished during the early months to Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

Eaton was formerly manager, quality control and test section of GE's missile and space division in Philadelphia. Prior to his last assignment he held various responsible quality control and test positions on aircraft, missile and space programs for the company. He is a graduate of North Western University, 1948, with a bachelor degree in electrical engineering, and joined GE in 1948 upon graduation.

At $165,000 price, he then caught an order from the board directing him as president to sign the necessary contract papers with Nacole and Penton.

H. G. Weir, county engineer, suggested earlier that if the board decided to reauthorize the job for a third time the next specifications provide for erection of the two bridges involved now with road construction to start March 1 so it would be ready for the summer. He said Jackson sources had approved this idea but he did not know if they would OK the present bid price in view of the estimates. As the conversation took its course, he advised the board to let Jackson do the re-jecting. Lavinghouse said the bridges involved were in such bad condition he would have to spend a good sum of money to fix them just for the winter and finally moved to accept the contract.

Weir said the highway department had felt the bridge prices were good but $123,000 on the 3.3 mile strip of road was high, perhaps in view of the local labor market. He suggested as an alternative that the county itself build the road and purchase the necessary equipment to do so. Hubbard said he had been able to do that with the Lower Bay Road in Beat 5 by saving up enough money to borrow for the financing but doubted if any other supervisor was in that good a financial condition.

In other action the board accepted the lone bid of Humble Oil Co. of $16,046 for a mineral lease of some 641 acres of 16th Section land in Ansley; approved Tax Assessor George Heitzmann's request to continue until further notice employment of Mrs. George Anderson as a clerk because of the heavy load of realty transfers; approved Supervisor Nacole's request to pay his July claim check; since sufficient funds were available now, and rejected the State Tax Department's rejection of home-leased consumption applications of Owen Jacop and W. L. Argus on the basis they have complied with the law in the board's eyes.

New elections is set for 9 a.m. Friday to take up the fiscal 1963-64 budget and millage.

POLLUTION KILLS HIGH

In a recent bulletin of the Sport Fishing Institute in Washington, a U. S. Public Health Service report on POLLUTION-CAUSED FISH KILLS (in 1962) reveals there were over seven million fish killed by water pollution last year.

There were 38 states that recorded major fish kills due to pollution. This affected angling in over 1,500 miles of streams and rivers, 15 miles of shoreline, and 2,600 acres of lakes. This total does not include a massive single kill of an estimated 37.5 million fish which took place in San Diego Harbor in August 1962. Neither does it include other kills which may have taken place in non-reporting states.

Topping the list of most common causes of fish kills was domestic sewage. It accounted for at least 3.3 million dead fish. Industrial waste killed more than 1.1 million fish, mining operations accounted for a known 700,000 and agricultural poisons about 51,000.

OUR POLLUTION PROBLEMS

Pollution in Mississippi is a big problem. Since May 1, 1963, the Pollution Division of the Game and Fish Commission has investigated many complaints, out of which eight pollution cases were made with a total of $2,200 in fines imposed.

In addition to investigating complaints, the Pollution Division makes periodic checks of all of the industries in the state and of all of the oil wells and oil fields. Through the combined efforts of the Game and Fish Commission and all of the hunters and fishermen of the state, the pollution problems in Mississippi could be greatly reduced.

GOOD SKIING RULES

A recent Outdoor News Bulletin from the Colorado Game and Fish Department offered 17 rules or guide posts to common sense when water skiing. We considered these rules excellent and would like to pass them on to you.

1. Do learn to swim and wear a flotation device.
2. Do check your equipment for loose bindings, wing nuts, etc.
3. Do sit down on the skis when coming in too fast to shore.
4. Do watch the water ahead of you at all times.
5. Do run parallel to shore and come in slowly when landing.
6. Do avoid falling forward if possible.
7. Do have an extra person in the boat to watch the skier.
8. Do signal driver all is well upon falling by clapping hands over head.
9. Do recover skis quickly as they will help keep you afloat. Hold up a ski after taking a fall in a well-traveled boating area.
10. Do learn to water ski by taking instructions from a known skier.
11. Don't yell "Hit it" until the rope is tight and the tips of the skis are up.
12. Don't put any part of the body through the handle or wrap the rope around any part of the body so that you will be tangled in falling.
13. Don't ski in shallow water—minimum safe depth is five feet.
14. Don't ski at night.
15. Don't ski to the point of exhaustion.
16. Don't ski directly ahead of another boat—you could fall.
17. Don't ski doubles with different length ropes.

These rules are only suggestions that every water skier should know and observe.

MORE FISH

More than seven and one-half million fingerling fish were distributed in public and private lakes in Mississippi during 1962 by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, according to Barry Freeman, Chief of Fisheries for the Game and Fish Commission.

During the 12 month period from January through December the fish distributed free of charge included bass 1,539,452; bluegill 3,677,181; redear sunfish 1,550,458; and channel catfish 688,322.

"Between one-half and two-thirds of the fish were distributed by Game and Fish personnel," stated Freeman.

The fingerling fish were raised at the three U. S. Fish and Wildlife Fish Hatcheries located at Tupelo, Meridian and Lyman.

DUCK IDENTIFICATION BOOK

The fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior has announced a new full-color waterfowl guide, DUCKS AT A DISTANCE.

The book is illustrated by wildlife artist Bob Hines. It illustrates all of the major species of duck and geese in fall migration plumage. Unlike other field guides which show mating colors, DUCKS AT A DISTANCE offers invaluable identification clues for student, hunter, and everyone who enjoys a bird walk in the autumn.

DUCKS AT A DISTANCE packs a variety of vital information for identifying water fowl species into its 24 pages—shapes, colors, voices, flight patterns, rising views, and flock formations.

Advanced orders are now being accepted by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. Price for the publication is 25 cents per copy.

Three at 7 1/2 cents per gallon with maintenance. Colonial Bakery, whose bid had been overlooked at the opening of prices, was the only one offering to supply this commodity and was granted the contract.

Payment of the August claim check was approved with Nacole going along reluctantly after closely questioning the $900-odd gasoline bill for the summer months. He contended the total was well in excess of the amount needed to fill his tanks for the opening of school.

Orin finally moved that each of the three principals report at the first Monday meeting on the amount of gas put in his school's storage tank during the preceding month as well as signing personally for butane and motor oil supplies. He noted that at least a year ago the board had gone on record requiring all three principals to attend the first meeting of the month and the Leguena principal had been to only one session since that order.

Arrangements for Church of Annunciation Parish to use the home economics building at the old Kila School for its school teachers' quarters were finally completed after board attorney W. J. Phillips advised a similar lease as that in effect at Dedeman for the church there. This permits use for so long as it is not for a purpose contrary to the law.

Rev. Malbury Dugan, Annunciation pastor, said the plan would enable his parish to spend about $4,000 in renovation of the property.

Dugan previously had advised the board it could have the old parish buildings from Our Lady of the Pines Church at Catahoula and advertisement was authorized for bids to move movable property to Hancock North Central for teachers' quarters.

"DAD BURN RIGHT, WE OWN THIS EPA!"

This old-timer is a proud member-owner of his Electric Power Association. He helped organize the non-profit business when his community couldn't get electric service for decent living and progress any other way.

Sure he's proud that he and his neighbors share in the local control and ownership of his EPA. He is proud of the economic progress of the people of his community—merchant, farmer, mill hand, salesman—that has been a direct result of his electric power business. And, he is rightly proud that his EPA is a self-paying, free enterprise in the truest sense of American business.

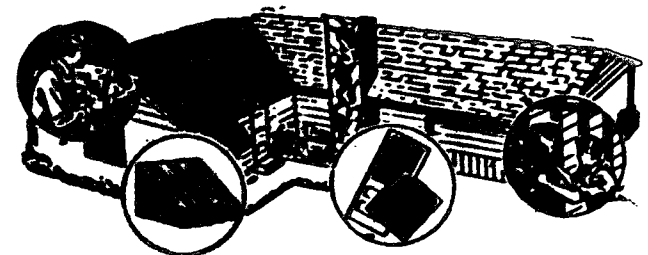

Naturally, this old-timer resents the completely false charges of federal ownership and the clever insinuations that his home-owned association should "get out of business" and "vacate areas" it pioneered, because certain segments of the lines it built now appear profitable to those who did not want to provide rural service when the going was tough.

Well does he understand that it takes "good areas" to help pay the cost of serving the more sparsely settled areas of rural homes, and farms... with reasonable rates... to pay off loans with interest... and to continue total rural coverage with electric power which is so essential to the progress of Mississippi.

"Dad Burn Right!" He and his neighbors own the system, lock, stock and barrel. They know that on-profit Electric Power Associations offer the only insurance of continued rural service with reasonable power rates, and they're proud of it.

Greyhounds visit Hawk field Friday

Hancock North Central gridders, fresh from a 13-13 tie with East Central in their opening game last Friday, meet powerful Ocean Springs in the north county stadium at 8 p.m. Friday.

The new bleachers which have just been installed at the HNC stadium will be used for the first time in the home opener, Ocean Springs, incidentally, was Gulf Coast Conference runner-up last year, losing out to Bay High in the last game of the season.

Coch Ezzell Lee's Hawks scored first in the opening quarter against East Central at Wade last Friday as quarterback Eddie Peterson went off left tackle, Kenny Randall's extra point try was wide.

East Central tied the score in the second quarter when Mike Jones took a North Central punt on the 11 yard line and headed up field and raced 89 yards for a TD. The extra point was no good.

One in the second quarter North Central added another score on a 31 yard run, by Paul Casvas but it was nullified by a 15-yard penalty. Three plays later North Central struck on a 20-yard pass-run from Peterson to Cuevas, Peterson also passed to Cuevas for the extra point. North Central went to the half time break with 13-6 lead.

After a scoreless third quarter East Central tied the score with three minutes left in the ball game on a 70-yard run by fullback Mike Jones.
